A prognosti-

cation for the yeare of our Lorde God. 1564.

Made and
sette forth by master Wyghel Nostradamus doctour
in Physicke, translated oute of French into English.

The declaratiō of the newe Moones, full Moones and quarters of this present yere. 1564.

The Prediction of January.

The fyrste daye of Januarpe at noone shalbe the last quarter, at 47 degrees of Libra, which shal be of meane temperaūce, but the colde shall be so behe-ment that one maye not abide it: we shalbe in daunger of some great syck-nes, of Feuers, payne of the head, and the stomacks, then lettynge of bloud is not profitable, pray we to God that all maye be for the best.

The newe moone shalbe the xiiii. daye at
vii. of the clocke at nighte, in the Sygne of Cancer, whiche shalbe rayny and frost that one may not passe on the wayes for thaboun-dance of Snowe that shall fall, and great tempestes of wyndes shall be, whiche shall continue vntyl the fourth daye of this newe moone.

The fyrste quarter shal be the. xx. daye of this month, at two of the clocke in the moz-nyng, whiche shalbe faire weather and constant, but yet some frostes, notwithstanding

A ii

A Prognostication

of meane temperaunce, God assistyng.

The full moone shalbe the. xxiii. day at vii. of the clocke. vii. minutes of Virgo.

Fulgurations and tempestes with rain and wynde that shall not be very constant, and many fluddes shall arise in many Countreys, so that bridges shall be rayled vp.

The Prediction of February.

The laste quarter shalbe the. liii. daye at midnight, winde of Septentrion that shall not longe endure. The mariners shall suffer muche troubles vpon the seas by reason of the greate tempestes, and muche treason shall be wrought: but at last it shall be knowne at the plesure of god our creatoure.

The newe moone shalbe the. xii. daye at. vi. of the clocke at nyghte great droughte with darke and cloudy weather, whiche will cause some sicknesse to olde persons, if God of his infinite goodnes do not helpe vs.

The fyfthe quarter the. xix. daye at. ii. of the clocke in the mornynge moyste weather and hot, and verie dangerous wyndes for women with chylde, wherein they shall be in muche daunger, and muche newes shall be brought, wherof they shall take little regard: but yet suche as they loke not for, the opinion of Virgyl, and contrary wise if it be cleare at his risynge as at his setting, it is assurance of fayre weather. Also after the

Of the course of the Moone.

The newe Moone is good to let younge folkes bloude.

The fyrste quarter is good for theym of ye age.

The full moone is good for them that be old.

And the last quarter is very good for old likes.

It is to be noted that there muste no incision be made, nor touch with any yron instrument vpon the member that is gouerned by any of the foresaid signes that day that the moone reigbeth, or hour that any yll planet reigbeth: for there would be daunger of to much bledynge.
